

TEN MEET DEATH IN OHIO WATERS OVER WEEK-END

Body Of Major Idzikowski Lies In Grave Near Scene of Crash

POISH FLIERS COME TO GRIEF ON SMALL ISLE

Goodwill Flight Ends In Tragedy When Plane Wrecks

MAJOR KUBALA IS BADLY INJURED

Details of Fatal Ending To Ocean Race Are Lacking

Azores, July 15.—Full details of the tragic crash which cost the life of Major Ludwik Idzikowski, a Polish flier, and seriously injured Major Kasimir Kubala, his companion, on an attempted transatlantic flight, were being awaited today from the little island of Graciosa, where the venture which started so brilliantly from France a few hours earlier, ended in disaster Saturday night.

The body of Major Idzikowski lies beneath a little mound of earth not far from the spot where his plane, the "Machni Pilsudski," crashed while attempting a forced landing due to engine trouble.

His extensive companion is in a similar condition at a local hospital. The gravity of his state has made it impossible for the full story of the disaster yet to be told.

Major Idzikowski's remains, released from the battered wreckage of the plane which had proved his trap, were buried with simple honors on Graciosa, one of the smallest islands in the Azores group.

Angered and torn by the impact of the crash and the explosion of gas, which immediately followed the famous airman's body was placed in a casket less than 24 hours after the accident had occurred, and was taken into its grave.

Today the adventurous flier was buried on the ocean on a flight which had not merely at fame and glory, but at the welding of relations between two nations, and the next day the battered remains lay beneath a mound of a tiny island even whose name was virtually unknown to the rest of the world.

From the story pieced together by the press of the crash and the messages received from the Polish Pilsudski for some time preceding the accident, it appears that Idzikowski and Kubala encountered trouble some 12 or 14 hours after they leaped off from Le Bourget near Paris, as contestants in the first trans-Atlantic air race.

Their flight was preceded by some forty nine other attempts, and Captain Daudonne Costes and Lieutenant Bellonte, their French rivals, both crews hoped to reach New York and thus accomplish the first successful east-to-west crossing.

Both men met the terrific headwinds which have spelled death and destruction to so many trans-Atlantic aspirants. Costes and Bellonte turned back and avoided disaster. Idzikowski and Kubala kept on, fighting desperately, hopelessly.

OPERATION ON KING SUCCESS

George Rests Easily After Surgeons Remove Rib Portions

London, July 15.—King George underwent a third operation of the chest today. Portions of two ribs were removed.

The attending doctors announced that the operation was successful. It was made necessary by an abscess in the cavity of the right side of the chest.

The chest sinus had failed to drain properly. The operation was performed at Buckingham palace where the king and queen are now living. The monarch's general health is described as excellent.

The prince of Wales was at the palace during the operation.

The operation was minor in character and the people were assured before hand that there was no danger.

The abscess in the king's side followed an attack of pleurisy last winter when his majesty was in serious condition for weeks.

A reassuring bulletin was issued at 11:40 o'clock. The text follows: "The operation upon his majesty has been performed. Portions of two ribs were removed in order that the circumscribed abscess one and one-half inches across should be directly drained and treated. The condition of his majesty is satisfactory."

SOVIET SUPPORT BY GOVERNMENT LOOMS POSSIBLE

Despite Attitude Towards China, America May Take Stand

Washington, July 15.—The strange anomaly of the American government lending moral support to Soviet Russia in the present Chinese crisis appeared among the possibilities today.

Traditional friendship of the United States for China, and its undisputed opposition to things communistic, appears not to have influenced Chinese experts in the state department to give the Hoover administration advice favorable to the seizure of the Chinese eastern railroad.

On the contrary comment among these officials is that China will have difficulty in persuading the world, most of which is opposed to Russia, that the seizure was justified.

The United States is waiting developments and is officially silent, while professing to be optimistic over the peaceful outcome, officials privately fear the worst.

The greatest danger, according to well-informed opinion here is from Japan, and if that nation uses the massing of Russian troops on the Manchurian border as an excuse to send her own troops there, ostensibly for the protection of the South Manchurian railway. (Japanese owned) then the United States would probably feel called upon to protect it.

The only basis for action by the Japanese which would be acceptable to the United States would be to go in as avowed ally of China at the latter's behest it was explained.

NEGROES FLEE NEBRASKA CITY

Entire Population Leaves When Enraged Mob Threatens

North Platte, Neb., July 15.—Fleeing before mobs dancing ropes and threatening death to any who line up, North Platte's entire negro population of 225 men, women and children today had left the city and none intended to return.

The mob action followed the killing of a white policeman by a negro who afterward committed suicide.

A negro prisoner in the county jail was released by the sheriff in order that he might join the flight.

Some of the exiles said they would return to southern states where, they lived before coming to Nebraska, and others said they would go to Chicago and Omaha.

The demonstration started when Edward Green, policeman, was shot to death by Louis Seelman, negro accused of wifebeating, who later ended his own life.

The watchman unlocked the cell in which Warman was being held and escorted the boy to the hydrant. Once there, Warman grabbed the guard's neck and called for assistance. Four other youths came to the prisoner's aid.

After locking Hall in room, the five made good an escape. The others who fled are Jack Sisson, 17, Edward Doime, 17, Lawrence Carnew, 17 and Thomas Donnon, 16, the latter two of Baltimore Md. The Baltimore boys were arrested after breaking into a store at Sharonville near here.

WATERS OF OHIO RIVER TO CHURN AS PACKETS VIE FOR SPEED HONOR

Betsy Anne and Tom Greene Again To Belch Smoke Along Course; Woman Will Be At Helm Of Craft; Claim Last Trial Unfair

Pittsburgh, July 15.—Old traditions of the brave days when the packets fought along the Ohio river for speed supremacy, and when crowds lined the banks to cheer for the sporting, smoke-belching boats, are about to be renewed.

Ghosts of the old Ohio pilots and captains perhaps will watch tomorrow when the Pittsburgh packet Betsy Ann will race the Cincinnati steamer Tom Greene from the Fernbank dam, just below Cincinnati, over a 20-mile course up the Ohio river to the Queen City Boat club.

The race will be the last event, expected to settle the "all time supremacy of the Ohio," owners indicated today.

Last year the Chris Greene, "little brother" of the Tom Greene, won the proud token of supremacy from the Betsy Ann, and Captain Chris Greene took the gold-leafed oak antlers signifying victory.

But there were pilots and captains along the river who claimed that the Betsy Ann had not been given a fair trial, that the had been loaded heavily, and that despite the loss of the race, she was the faster boat.

Frederick Way, Jr., president of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet line, said there had been no plans for a final race, until clamor of the partisans forced it. The Betsy Ann has been put in condition carefully, and the race will be the "showdown."

A woman will pilot a packet during a race on the river for the first time in history this year. Mrs. Mary Greene, widow of Captain Cordon Greene, will be master of the Cincinnati boat and will take her hand at piloting during the trial.

Excursion boats will traverse the river with the racing packets, to carry newspapermen, newsreel cameramen and spectators. Airplanes will add a modern touch to the oldest of river pastimes. Packet racing.

STARK ELECTRIC FIGHTS RULING

Claim Addition of Buses Will Destroy Service Of Company

Columbus, O., July 15.—Claiming that the action of the State Utilities Commission will ultimately result in the destruction of the service now being rendered by the Stark Electric railroad company, unless vacated, officials of the company today appealed to the Ohio supreme court for a reversal of the commission's order, dated June 25, last, authorizing the Salisbury Transportation company to increase its equipment by adding two 18-passenger buses, making a total of three, and to make 17 westbound and 16 eastbound unrestricted trips daily between Alliance and Canton.

POSTOFFICE DEFICIT

In the face of a possible postoffice deficit of $137,000,000 the present fiscal year and an annual deficit of $85,000,000 for the four years immediately succeeding the present, there is little occasion for extended consideration of what is to be done with the surplus of $180,000,000 reported at the close of the fiscal year ended June 30. Ordinarily this year's probable deficit would have been $95,000,000, but the sum of $42,000,000 which the postoffice department must pay the railroads as the result of a court of claims decision increases this year's probable deficit to approximately $137,000,000.

The postoffice department has not been on a self-sustaining basis within the memory of man, regardless of the fact that the treasury department has assisted it in bearing its financial burden. As a matter of fact, it has not been expected to pay its way, the general feeling being that low postal rates are to be preferred to a self-sustaining department. There has long been recognition of the fact that the department may be expected to report a deficit annually, but when the deficit jumps from $13,000,000 in 1924 to $95,000,000 in 1929, exclusive of the $42,000,000 found due the railroads for transporting the mails in the past, the public is naturally inclined to sit up and take notice and the administration is put to consideration of ways and means to meet the situation.

From Washington comes the report that measures which would reverse the government policy of carrying the mails at a great loss, if necessary, as a public service and instead make the beneficiaries of the service rendered bear the expense are under consideration, as a means of reducing the deficit.

It is pointed out that one step which could be taken would be the reduction of the contract price of carrying air mail and a relative increase in air mail rates. It is also stated that the president will be urged to consider the contention that modernization of the postoffice department's accounting methods would wipe out a large portion of the deficit.

Under the present system, the postal department is required by law to handle hundreds of thousands of tons of congressional "franked" and departmental "free" mail matter annually. All of it must be accorded first-class handling and the system does not permit the department to take credit for the free service in its accounting.

While it is easy to understand that its accomplishment would be a matter of extreme difficulty, there can be no question but what the wiping-out of the "franking" abuse would strike a popular note throughout the country. The abuse of the "franking" privilege by members of the two houses of congress has reached such proportions as to be an outrage alike upon the postoffice department and the citizenship of the land, for in one way or another all of us are taxpayers regardless of what our property holdings may be. In some cases the abuse has achieved the characteristics of a public scandal. Members of congress will not willingly surrender the franking privilege and government departments may be expected to cry out if attempts are made to abridge their mailing privileges, but public opinion should be directed to apply its might to the working of a reformation.

What Others Say

DON'T PLUCK FLOWERS THERE
Tourists will save money and escape annoyance by not plucking wild flowers when traveling through West Virginia. That state has a new law proposed by nature lovers. It prohibits the plucking of wild bloom along the highways, and within 100 feet of the highways, without the written consent of the owners of the property. Violation of the law, or the transportation of wild bloom or shrubs, is punishable by a fine of $100. Instructions have been given state troopers and police officials to enforce the law vigorously.

This looks like a law camouflaged with a good purpose and intended to produce revenue. The right of the state to protect the wild flowers is unquestioned and all sane efforts in enforcing that right are to be commended. The ugliness that is shown by the flower pluckers each season is aggravating and deserves sound rebuke. But the $100 fine is ridiculous. It looks like a trap set for the unfortunate tourist, and, if that is the case, the state is in little business in seeking to prey on the purses of its visitors. The law, as it stands today, is the product of poor thinking, or the result of sordid commercialism. One is indefensible, the other indecent.

One state not far from West Virginia passed a law a few years ago providing a fine of $10 for any driver or passenger who passed over a railway grade crossing without coming to a full stop. It was proposed as a safety measure. It was, in fact, a raid on tourists. Roadside courts were in operation, deputy constables were near the principal grade crossings, arrests were numerous, fines abundant, revenues were replenished, the road was a great success for a time. It is such unwise laws and burdensome fines that help make the administration of justice appear contemptible. But, so long as that law is in force, let the tourists traveling West Virginia have a care.—Ohio State Journal.

The Stars Say—

For Tuesday, July 16.
The sidereal operations for this day emphasize the benefits that may be attained by straightforward and above-board methods. There is much incentive to subtlety, craft, expediency and intrigue which may offset several excellent testimonies. Employment, industry and labor are suspiciously aspected and with precaution and discretion should bring substantial recognition and rewards. Those whose birthday it is stand at the threshold of a year of splendid opportunity, with promotion, preferment and substantial returns for application, fidelity and straightforwardness. But shun subtlety and craft.

A child born on this day may rise to good position by his faithfulness, industry, talents and good qualities, but it may jeopardize these by expediency and craft.

WHY WE WITHSTAND WEATHER EXTREMES

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

DR. COPELAND

Man's adaptability to his surroundings is one of the remarkable facts about him. Palm trees thrive in the tropics and die in colder climes. Man thrives everywhere.

The body is made to adapt itself to conditions as they are. One of the surest tests of this is that man can withstand sudden and violent changes in the weather. He may be in the clutch of terrible heat and not suffer much if there is a sudden drop of 50 or 60 degrees.

The opposite states of weather will cause him no serious inconvenience. Of course we fret over extremes of heat and cold. We complain about the sudden changes. But in the last analysis these bodies of ours adapt themselves to whatever comes.

The skin and its wonderful equipment of blood vessels are the things that save us. The covering of the body is made on purpose to guard the interior with its vital organs.

Among other functions the skin acts as a regulator. It is more accurate and unflinching in its operations than the most perfect thermostat ever made.

I am assuming that the man under discussion is a normal person, that he has a perfect body and lives a proper life. He cannot hope to be seriously undisturbed by violent weather changes, for instance, if his heart and blood vessels and, indeed, his every part, are not in prime condition.

When we consider the reasons why correct living is essential to safety we rarely think of the part the skin plays in promoting man's welfare. Of course, I have in mind, not only the very outside, the part we see and feel, but also the whole thickness and structure of the body covering.

To maintain the successful operation of the skin it must be well nourished. That is, it must have its full share of the food and drink we take to maintain health. It must be cleaned and fed by an abundance of pure blood.

Besides what it gets from within, it must be well cared for from without. It must be scrubbed and cleaned and never be permitted to remain smeared and clogged. We cannot hope to avoid contact with dirt, but by regular and thorough bathing we must keep the skin in first-class condition.

The skin requires air and light, particularly sunlight. The local circulation is improved by these agents of good. As the skin is bettered by them, the whole body rejoices because of the pleasant glow they give.

A friend of mine, a famous doctor, wears very light colored and porous clothing the whole year. Winter as well as summer. He realizes the importance of light and the necessity of the skin to have it.

Perhaps we won't go that far, but there is no doubt opportunity should be given these bodies of ours to drink in the goodness found in air and light. There can be no doubt, I think, that the modern "damps," coming "extra-violet" rays, have a real place in benefiting the skin, and through it, the whole body. But of course sunlight is free to all and while a bit uncertain during some seasons of the year should be utilized whenever possible.

The more active the skin is, the cleaner it is, and the more it is exposed to air and light the better prepared we are to face changes of weather with indifference. With well-nourished and well-kept skin, the less we will shiver in the cold and the better we will feel in extremely hot weather.

Answers to Health Queries

E. C. H. Q.—Is it possible for a person to have three or four dislocations of the vertebrae and would this pinch the nerves and cause a general disturbance of the entire nervous system? If such was the case what would be the remedy?
A.—No. In the case of a serious injury to the spinal columns serious results will follow. Without knowing more about the case in particular it would be impossible to make a definite statement or prescribe treatment. The doctor attending the patient should be able to advise you.

E. N. Q.—I have had head noises for about six months and have been treated without results. What would you advise?

A.—Have also had trouble with my toe nails which grow in decayed. What causes this and what can be done to correct it?

A.—This is usually indicative of nasal catarrh. Keep the nose and throat clear.

A.—Due to some chronic affection. Have your doctor advise treatment.

after examination. There must be some underlying cause which must be located and treated first of all before the symptom will disappear.

WRONG IDENTITY CAUSES DEATH OF KENTUCKIAN

Killed At Door By Man Seeking To Avenge Father's Killing

Somers, Ky., July 15.—(Cecil) Merkel, 21, answered a knock on the door of his sweetheart's home, near here, Saturday night.

He mistook for another, was shot and killed by another man, son of a man who had been slain a short time before.

Hiram Sexton, 65, admonished several young people who were visiting at his home Saturday night for "making too much noise."

In an ensuing argument, Raymond Huff, 21, one of the visitors, said to have shot and killed the Kentuckian.

Huff then ran from the house and fled on horseback. Clause Sexton, 21, son of the slain man, chased another mount and followed Sexton was about to overtake the fleeing youth. Huff jumped from the horse and hid in a cornfield, but before he had been wounded by a gun which Sexton is said to have fired.

Thinking that Huff had gone to his home, Sexton journeyed there. He knocked on the door.

The knock was answered by Merkel who was visiting Huff's sister.

When Merkel appeared in the doorway, Sexton is said to have fired a bullet into him. Merkel fell dead, an innocent victim of the quarrel.

Sexton then fled, but was captured later.

Huff is still at large.

Police plan a rigid investigation into the shooting fray today.

Five Hurt When Automobiles Wreck

East Liverpool, O., July 15.—(Cecil) Campbell, 22, Toronto, O., suffered a fracture of the skull and a broken jaw bone, and Mrs. Minnie Miller, of Wellsville, was cut on the head in an auto crash in Wellsville, near here, over the week end. Three others were slightly injured in week-end auto accidents in this vicinity.

Man Is Stabbed

Columbus, O., July 15.—Leslie Bieber, 24, is in Radium hospital here today, suffering from a stab wound over the heart, which he received last night during an altercation near his home. His assailant, a man, escaped.

POLISH FLIERS

against the winds, until finally, when in the vicinity of the Azores, they came to the realization that they were in a safe landing on the ground.

A radio message sputtered from their radio, telling of engine trouble and of the necessity of landing, and the football field here, the only thing approaching a landing ground, was prepared for their arrival.

There was little fear that they would fail to reach their goal in spite of their trouble, but suddenly the radio messages ceased. Still no apprehension was felt among the ray crowds who had gathered to watch what was to have been the first descent of a land plane on this rocky island, when like a bolt from a blue came word that the Marshal Pilsudski had crashed in landing in Graciosa, and that Idzikowski had met his death.

From eye-witness stories of the tragedy, it appears the fliers headed over Graciosa, a rocky island ill-suited for airplane landings, as a last resort. Several times the great gray plane circled over the island, while inhabitants signalled out the one place where a safe descent might be made—a field 150 yards in length.

The plane, descending fast, headed toward the field which had been indicated, but as its wheels touched the earth, it dived and rolled headlong. Witnesses saw the body of one man hurled clear, and a moment later there came a terrific explosion, killing Idzikowski with merciful speed as he sat strapped in the pilot's seat. The plane was demolished.

Paris, July 15.—This city was plunged into grief today by the catastrophe which befell Majors Idzikowski and Kubala, Polish aviators starting under such auspicious circumstances from Le Bourget air field Saturday.

Captain Dieudonne Costes and Maurice Bellonte, French aviators who took off a short time after their Polish rivals and who also failed in their attempt to span the ocean from east to west, were deeply affected by the tragedy. Both remained in virtual seclusion today, refusing any plaudits for their 29 hour flight which took them almost to the Azores and back to France again.

Costes and Bellonte returned to Paris after landing at Villacoublay aerodrome, just outside of Paris, disheartened over their failure, but convinced that no mortal, nor no plane could ride out the headwinds of hurricane force which drove them back over their route after they had left a thousand miles of ocean behind them.

"We have done nothing. We want no praise," said Costes when he returned to Paris. "Our thoughts are with that gallant fellow who lies in the Azores, victim of the same relentless wind which nearly drove us to a similar fate."

"It is a pity, that guiding his plane against such terrific obstacles to a seemingly safe haven, that this accident should have occurred. Major Idzikowski was a great aviator and a fine gentleman. I find it difficult to believe that he is gone. I shall never forget his splendid start Saturday on the venture he had planned so long."

UNTIN' BOWLER WRECKS AT SEA

No One Aboard Chicago-Berlin Craft When Gale Sweeps Plane Into Floes

Chicago, July 15.—Their Chicago-to-Berlin pathfinding plane, 'Untin' Bowler, swept to sea in a gale and sunk among ice floes in Hudson Bay strait. Pilot, Parker D. Cramer and Robert H. Gast, and Robert Wood, historian of the flight, today were preparing to start for Chicago on the first steamship calling at Port Burwell, they reported in radio messages received here.

They probably will not reach Chicago until late in August.

The ship was forced down by fog near Port Burwell last week. Ice closed around it. For days the crew strove to save it but during a 50-mile gale the amphibian was carried out to sea and was ground to pieces by ice floes.

Flier Forced Down

Wichita, Kas., July 15.—Forced down by oil pump trouble about midway between Los Angeles and New York, Lieut. Herbert J. Fahy expected to be in readiness for a hop-off some time today for the Pacific coast to prepare for another attempt to set a record for a round trip transcontinental flight.

Stettin—The new warehouse at the Stettin harbor, which has just been completed, is the largest in all Europe, with a storage space of over 47,800 square yards and a capacity of 65,000 long tons.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish in this manner to thank the relatives, friends, neighbors, German lodges, branches 18 and 19 and Mullins employees for their kindness and sympathy extended, floral offerings and autos furnished. Also the choir for the singing and Rev. B. E. Rutzy for his consoling words during the sickness and death of my beloved husband.

Athletics Increase League Lead To Eight And One-Half Games

Yankees Trail Leading Nine By 100 Points

Indians Bow to Mackmen While Tigers Defeat World Champions

GEO. UHLE WHIFFS 10 YANK BATSMEN

Giants, Cards Break Even In Twin Bill; Pirates Held Idle

By LES CONKLIN
New York, July 15.—The world's champion Yankees are trailing the Athletics by exactly 100 points in the American League this morning, which is a long way from home on July 15 in any man's league. The Yanks, who had cut the lead of the Athletics down to 7½ games, encountered a stumbling block yesterday in Detroit and lost 7 to 3, while the A's were mowing out Cleveland.

George Uhle, who had lost six of his last seven games, struck out 10 New York batters and yielded only six hits. He looked like an also ran, however, until the seventh inning when his mates knocked George Pipiras off the mound and scored five runs with the aid of errors by Durocher and Dickey.

Cleveland held the Athletics at bay until the tenth inning when Jimmy Zinn, relieving Hudlin of the pitching burden, was tagged for three hits. Al Simmons, Mack's celebrated cripple, started at bat with four healthy hits.

A pitching duel between Garland Braxton of Washington and Al Thomas of the White Sox was broken up in the eighth inning when the Nats scored five runs to grab a 7-to-1 decision.

Russell Trims Sox
Jack Russell of the Red Sox rang the bell with a three-hit performance as Boston subdued the Browns 5 to 2. Russell pitched hitless ball for the first six frames.

After outpointing the Cardinals, 7 to 6, on Terry's hit in the eighth the Giants dropped the second game 4 to 3. Denver Bill Walker held the Cards to one hit in seven innings of the nightcap but blew up in the eighth when the champions put on a three-run rally climaxed by high's single.

Injuries crippled Roush and Jackson, two of McGraw's brightest stars. Roush tripped over first base and Jackson was hit on the leg by a line drive.

The Cincinnati Reds made whoopee at the expense of Brooklyn, facing five pitchers for 16 hits and winning in a romp, 12 to 3.

VICTOR AND VANQUISHED

APPARENTLY defeated, with four holes to go, Johnny Florio, (left) 20-year-old Columbus youth, staged a sensational comeback to defeat Neal Ransick, (right) and annex Ohio State Golf association championship honors. In the final of the tourney, at Brookside Country club, Canton, Saturday, Florio defeated Ransick four up, breaking out with a series of pars on the last four holes that completely swamped his Cincinnati adversary.

Salem Defeats Darlington Pa Nine At Park

Scoring nine runs in the sixth inning, the Salem Grate Motors defeated the Darlington (Pa.) Outlaws 12-5, at Centennial park, Sunday afternoon, before a large crowd of fans.

Darlington led, 1-0, up until the sixth, through a run scored by Shorty Borton, Salem lad at short for the Keystone states, but the Motors hopped on Babel, Darlington hurler for eight hits in the sixth, to cross the plate nine times.

Drakulich was touched for ten hits but kept them scattered and fanned seven batters. Summary:

DunEden Nine Trims Sebring

Pete Sanders In Relief Pitching Role When Needles Falts

Dun Eden lake nine defeated the Sebring Independents, 8-7, in a colorless struggle, at Dun Eden lake, Sunday afternoon.

The lake nine led all the way but Sebring rallied in late innings, and tied the bases on three consecutive walks by Needles in the ninth. Pete Sanders was put in as relief hurler, striking out Brimlow, to retire the side.

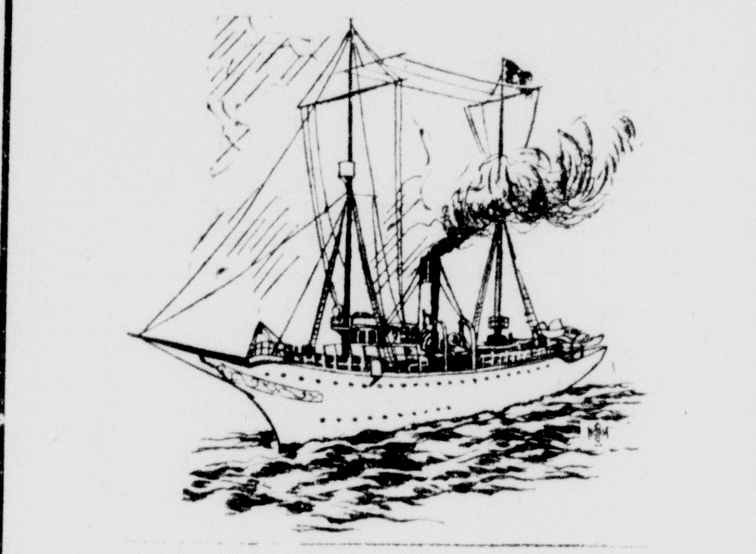

Needles was wild and ineffective, walking 14 and hitting three batters.

Golfer Plays 165 Holes In Tourney

Anthony Dean, Youngstown, won second honors, playing 142 holes during the day, while Robert Sullivan shot 135 for third prize. William Reed won fourth, shooting 108 holes. All prize-winners are from Youngstown.

"IN BUSINESS FOR YOUR HEALTH'S SAKE"

All MECHANISM ON TOP ..where it belongs!

THERE are many reasons why all the mechanism of the General Electric Refrigerator is placed on top of the cabinet. Here are 3 vital reasons:

1. Refrigerating mechanisms develop heat in the process of cooling the interior of the refrigerator. This heat escapes and rises. Therefore, General Electric has placed the refrigerating mechanism on top so that the escaping heat travels away from the cabinet.
2. Placing all the mechanism on top of the cabinet achieves maximum food storage space within the cabinet.
3. With the mechanism on top, the inside of the cabinet is free from obstructions and easier to keep clean.

There are now more than 300,000 users and not one has ever spent a dollar for repairs. Visit our display rooms and see the new all-steel models.
